

Primary Library Newsletter January 2012

Dear parents,

I would still like to wish you a Happy New Year! I am pleased to announce that we were again able to organize nice readings and theater performances for your children:

On Wednesday, February 1st, the "Teatro Baraonda" will perform a play for children of the Italian Early Education - section and 1st grade in kindergarten.

On Monday, March 19th, the English author Angie Sage will read from her fantasy-novels to 2nd/ 3rd grade and 4th/ 5th grade students of the English section in the library.

On Monday, March 26th, Zoran Drvenkar is going to read from his ingenious children's book "Kurzhosengang" to 2nd/ 3rd and 4th/ 5th grade students of the German section - which will also take place in the library.

Also in March, the Belgian author Anne Crahay will draw and read for children of the French Early Education section as well as 1st, 2nd and 3rd grade students of the French section in the library.

Our longtime experience shows us that "real" authors, illustrators and actors inspire children to read, paint and play!

The board of the ESF Parents Association intends to publish the names of all known supporters of the primary library on the PA website. In case any of the primary library's supporters do not want to see their name published, kindly send an informal note by e-mail - prior to February 1st - to: s.vonselchow@googlemail.com or eileen.meissner@familienservice.de.

Best regards,

Stephanie von Selchow, Primary Library
